CONTENTS OF VOLUME XXVIII.

CLIV. JANUARY, 1909.

On the Latent Heat of Fusion and the Specific Heat of Salts in the Solid and Liquid State. H. M. GOODWIN and H. T. KALMUS 1

An Experimental Study of Photo-active Cells with Fluorescent Electrolytes. PERCY HODGE 25

Some Phenomena of Persistence of Vision. FRANK ALLEN 45

The Rotary Power of Quartz at the Temperature of Liquid Air. F. A. MOLBY 57

Proceedings of the American Physical Society 64

Minutes of the Forty-forth Meeting; The Distribution of Sound from the Megaphone, A. G. Webster; The Reflection of Sound from the Ground, A. G. Webster; The Definition of a Perfect Gas, A. G. Webster and M. A. Rosanaff; A Physical Investigation of Kerosene Oil, G. W. Stewart; The Effect of Temperature on the Magnetic Properties of Electrolytic Iron, E. M. Terry; Magnetic Rotation in Iron Cathode Films, L. R. Ingersoll; The Effect in Metals at Very Low Temperatures, Alpheus W. Smith; The Effect of Mechanical Strains on Thermal and Electrical Conductivity, N. F. Smith; Dielectric Losses in Alternating Current Circuits, Carl Kinsley; On the Theory of the Carbon Transmitter: Bruce V. Hill; A Method of Determining Thermal Conductivity at High Temperatures, J. K. Clement and W. L. Egy; A Method of Measuring Alternating Currents, Carl Kinsley and E. J. Moore.

CLV. FEBRUARY, 1909.

The Coefficients of Gas Viscosity. II. WILLARD J. FISHER 73

The Effect of Tension on Thermal and Electrical Conductivity. N. F. SMITH 107

A Study of Overcast Skies. EDWARD L. NICHOLS 122

Note on the Short-Circuiting of Cadmium Cells. P. I. WOLD 132

The Dispersion of Electric Double Refraction. T. H. HAVELOCK 136

Proceedings of the American Physical Society. 140

Minutes of the Forty-fifth Meeting; A High Temperature Regulator, H. M. Randall; The Absorption Spectra of Various Potassium and Uranyl Salts in Solution, H. C. Jones and W. W. Strong; Ionization in Closed Vessels, W. W. Strong; An Absolute Gauge for Measuring High Hydrostatic Pressures, P. W. Bridgman; The Resistance of Mercury as a Secondary Gauge for High Pressures, P. W. Bridgman; Methods for Measuring Compressibilities at High Pressures, P. W. Bridgman; Fatigue of Metals Excited by Roentgen Rays, L. T. More and R. E. C. Gowdy; A Method of Determining the Electrode Potentials of the Alkali Metals, G. N. Lewis and C. A. Kraus; Non-Newtonian Mechanics and the Principle of Relativity, G. N. Lewis and R. C. Tolman; Ultra-Violet Absorption and Fluorescence and the Complete Balmer Series of Sodium Vapor, R. W. Wood; Photographic Registration of Sounds, D. C. Miller; Notes on Thermoluminescence, Elizabeth R. Laird; New Series in the Spectra of Ca, Sr and Ba, F. A. Saunders.

CLVI. MARCH, 1909.

Crystal Rectifiers for Electric Currents and Electric Oscillations. Part II. Carborundum, Molybdenite, Anatase, Brookite. G. W. PIERCE 153

Atmospheric Radio-activity in California and Colorado and the Range of the α-Particles from Radium B. FREDERIC A. HARVEY 188

Telephone Receiver Impedance. ROY T. WELLS 217

Proceedings of the American Physical Society 221

Note on Spherical Aberration, W. S. Franklin; The Theory of Coupled Circuits, Louis Cohen; Entladungsstrahlen, Elizabeth R. Laird; Magnetic Double Refraction Normal to the Field in Liquids, C. A. Skinner.

New Books 230

Elasticity, Searle; Refrigeration, Anderson; Electrical Engineers' Pocket-Book, Foster; Technical Dictionary in Six Languages, Kinzbrunner; Electro-Metallurgy, Kershaw; Theory and Design of Induction Coils, Armagnat; Electric Lighting and Power Distribution, Maycock; Alternating Currents, Larner; Selen für die Elektrotechnik, Reis; Histoire de la Chimie, Ladenburg.

303513

CLVII. APRIL, 1909.

Colloidal Solutions, and the Refractive Indices of Gold, Platinum and Silver. B. J. SPENCE 233

On the Bursting Strength of Glass Tubing. J. R. ROEBUCK 264

The Temperature Coefficients of the Moving Coil Galvanometer. ANTHONY ZELENY and O. HOVDA 277

The Absorption and Reflection of Calcite and Aragonite for Infra-red Rays as Dependent upon the Plane of Polarization. R. E. NYSWANDER 291

Proceedings of the American Physical Society 309

Minutes of the Forty-Sixth Meeting; Note on the Cathode Equilibrium of the Weston Normal Cell, F. A. Wolff; Thermo-electric Behavior of Tungsten and Tantalum, Wm. W. Coblentz; The Number of Free Corpuscles per Unit Volume of the Metals Gold, Platinum and Silver, B. J. Spence.

CLVIII. MAY, 1909.

On the Electron Theory of Thermal Radiation for Small Values of (λT). JAKOB KUNZ 313

The Electrical and Optical Properties of Metallic Selenium. A. H. PFUND . . 324

The Number of Free Corpuscles per Unit Volume of the Metals Gold, Platinum and Silver. B. J. SPENCE 337

Studies in Luminescence. IX. The Spectrophotometric Study of Certain Cases of Kathodo-Luminescence. EDW L. NICHOLS and ERNEST MERRITT 349

The Effect of Temperature on Fluorescence and Absorption. R. C. GIBBS . . . 361

Proceedings of the American Physical Society 377

The Radiation from Neutral Electric Systems, Daniel F. Comstock; On the Radioactive Deposits from Actinium, J. C. McLennan; The Resistance of Certain Electrolytes in a Magnetic Field, W. W. Stifler; The Longitudinal Pressure of Sound Waves, E. E. Hall; Changes of Intensity and Rate of Decay of Gas Phosphorescence with Variation of Gas Pressure, C. C. Trowbridge; Determination of the Frequency of Glow-Arc Oscillations, W. G. Cady; Note on Optical Dispersion Formulæ, A. Trowbridge.

New Books 391

A Text-Book of Physics, Duff; Freihandversuche, Hahn; Technik des physikalischen Unterrichts, Müller.

CLIX. JUNE, 1909.

The Effect of Low Temperature on Some of the Physical Properties of a Series of Iron-Carbon Alloys. C. W. WAGGONER 393

On Some Peculiarities of Electrical Conductivity Exhibited by Powders and a Few Solid Substances. R. H. GODDARD 405

The Effect of Torsion on Thermal and Electrical Conductivity. NEWLAND F. SMITH 429

The Distribution of Energy in the Spectrum of theTungsten Filament. R. E. NYSWANDER 438

A Simple Interferometer for Showing the Zeeman Effect. A. H. PFUND . . 446

Proceedings of the American Physical Society. 450

Minutes of the Forty-seventh Meeting; On α Rays from Radium B, H. L. Bronson; The Sublimation of Ice, H. T. Barnes and W. S. Vipond; On the Reproducibility of the Clark and Weston Cells, and a Recalculation of the Mechanical Equivalent of Heat, H. L. Bronson and A. N. Shaw; Incandescent Electric Lamps as Secondary Photometric Standards, E. B. Rosa and G. W. Middlekauff; Preliminary Report on the Alternating Current Method of Measuring Resistance in Absolute Measure, E. B. Rosa and F. W. Grover; Note on the New Value of the Unit of Cand epower of the Bureau of Standards, E. B. Rosa; On the Absolute Measurement of Current by a New Current Balance, E. B. Rosa and N. E. Dorsey; The Daylight Efficiency of Artificial Light Sources, Herbert E. Ives; An Improved Form of the Duddell Singing Arc, G. W. Nysmyth; Specific Heats at High Temperatures, W. P. White; Calorimetric Accuracy, W. P. White; The Retardation of Alpha Rays by Metals and Gases, T. S. Taylor; Redetermination of the Radiation Constants of a Black Body, W. W. Coblentz; The Platinum Thermometer at High Temperatures, C. W. Waidner and G. K. Burgess; Note on Radiation due to Impact of β Particles upon Solid Matter, C. Davisson; Preliminary Note on the Variation with Speed of the Mass of an Electron, C. A. Proctor; The Natural Scale of Pure Color, P. G. Nutting; An Experimental Determination of the Resolving Power Constant of Lenses, P. G. Nutting; The Effect of Temperature upon the Absorption Spectra of Various Salts in Solution, W. W. Strong; Note on the Rate of Movement, Depth and Intensity of Storms, Wm. R. Blair; Temperature Change with Altitude in the Lower Stratum of the Atmosphere and its Relation to Surface Air Pressure and other Phenomena, Wm. R. Blair; The Determination of the Constants of Instrument Transformers, P. G. Agnew and T. T. Fitch.
